

Review 2009

Circle of Support Raises More Than $1 Million

Circle 1000 celebrated its 22nd Annual Founders' Brunch with Cokie Roberts as its guest speaker. As we all know, 2009 was and continues to be a year in which we have had to reevaluate what is important to each and every one of us. Fortunately for Circle 1000, our Circle of Support underwriters continued their loyalty and devotion in making a difference for Hoag Cancer Center and Hoag Hospital.

A heartfelt thank you to everyone for their commitment to Circle 1000. Your contributions have helped sustain Hoag Cancer Center so it can continue to maintain its superior excellence, cutting-edge technology, top-notch research and outstanding care. Congratulations to everyone as contributions totaled more than $1 million dollars in proceeds this year.

Ms. Roberts spoke eloquently about her own personal fight with breast cancer along with stories of her loss of loved ones to this very same disease. She made herself heard loud and clear that we all need to become warriors in this deadly fight against cancer. A war we need to battle with fervor, commitment and strength.

Beyond having more than forty years of broadcast experience as a well-respected senior and political commentator for ABC news, along with countless awards including three Emmys, Ms. Roberts is also known for her strong advocacy on cancer prevention. She openly acknowledged how fortunate it is for Circle 1000 and its donors to have a world-class cancer center in its community. She creatively weaved numerous and moving stories about her battle with cancer and was grateful for the surrounding support and emotional care she received from family, friends, physicians and nurses. Everyone truly enjoyed sharing their morning with Ms. Roberts—it felt like a chat among close friends.

As the research for a cure continues, we now head into 2010. Circle 1000 supporters like you enable us to help fund the pledge to find cancer cures and enhance technology and wonderful care found at Hoag Cancer Center.

We would like to thank Circle 1000 Chair Karen Linden for her energy and leadership over the past three years. She has inspired us all with her positive presence. She has motivated each of us on how we can make a difference in our individual communities and neighborhoods. She has shared a passion with others that ensures Circle 1000 and its Circle of Support continues on with its vision and achievements. However, her commitment to Hoag will not be lost as she now embarks on a new path at Hoag as Chairman of the Foundation Board of Directors. We congratulate Karen on her new role, knowing she will embrace the challenges and responsibilities with great passion. We thank you Karen for your time and commitment to Circle 1000. The baton has now been passed on to Pame Schmider the new Circle 1000 Chair. Pame has been involved with Circle 1000 for several years. She is compassionate, dedicated and enthusiastic and will continue to carry on the tradition of Circle 1000 excellence—her hope is to inspire and support Circle 1000 in its journey.

Pame plans to play a significant role in assisting Hoag Cancer Center and Hoag Hospital in their vision and mission as a trusted and nationally recognized health care leader. A respected institution that is at the forefront of clinical care, technology and exceptional health care outcomes.

In the 22 years since Circle 1000's inception, contributions have totaled more than $10.4 million to Hoag Cancer Center. Circle 1000's Founders' Committee is already preparing for the next Celebration Brunch scheduled for spring of 2010. On behalf of the Circle 1000 Founder's Committee, Hoag Cancer Center and Hoag Hospital we thank you again for your 2009 contributions.

2009 contributions were designated in the following areas:

- $118,000 – Cell Biology Lab
- $100,000 – Oncology Nursing
- $100,000 – Sandy Sewell Oncology Nursing Scholarship Endowment
- $2,000 – Hoag Breast Care Center for Breast Cancer Research
- $700,000 – Hoag Cancer Center Expansion

Margaret G. Larkin – Vin Jorgensen Award Winner

Margaret Larkin

Margaret Larkin is this year's recipient of the Circle 1000 Vin Jorgensen Award. She has enthusiastically embraced her role and support of Circle 1000 and Hoag Cancer Center activities, and was instrumental in arranging for the 2009 Circle 1000 Brunch speaker, Cokie Roberts. As a second year Circle 1000 committee member she has been actively involved inspiring and introducing several new underwriters to Circle 1000 and their commitment to Hoag Cancer Center. Margaret has served on the Hoag Foundation Board of Directors for the past three years and will begin a new three-year term in 2010.

Welcome Kathryn Glassmyer and Margery Lewis as Circle 1000's New Committee Members

Kathryn Glassmyer

Kathryn Glassmyer has been with South Coast Plaza for nearly seven years, and is currently the Director of Community Relations. She is very involved in a number of Newport Beach and community organizations including the 552 Club, 44 Women for Children, The Dream Guild, and The Laguna Playhouse Women. Kathryn also serves on committees for the Orange County Performing Arts Center Candlelight Concert, South Coast Repertory Gala, the Pacific Symphony Gala, Orange County Museum of Art – Art of Dining, and Hoag Hospital's Christmas Carol Ball. Circle 1000 has special meaning to Kathryn because she personally had a bout with malignant melanoma and her grandmother died of breast cancer. Having been treated at Hoag Hospital as a patient, Kathryn believes that Hoag offers the best care and that the physicians at Hoag are quite simply the best.

Margery (Marge) Lewis

Margery Lewis and her family have been residents of the Newport Beach community since the late 1980's. They are involved in and support several charitable organizations including Hoag Cancer Center, Circle 1000, and Beckstrand Cancer Group, among others. Over the past number of years Margery and her family have supported Circle 1000 in their fight against cancer. Margery stated that Hoag Cancer Center and Circle 1000 are significant to her since she was first diagnosed with Stage 3 melanoma in 2002. Dr. Neil Barth and his staff took care great of her during her treatment. She has been cancer free for seven years and counting. Margery looks forward to being an active participant as a new Circle 1000 Founders' Committee member this year.

*Introducing the 2009 Sandy Sewell
Nursing Oncology Scholarship Recipient,
Carolyn Hendrix, B.S.N., R.N.*

The members and donors of Circle 1000 know that nursing is the core of excellent cancer care and have shown their gratitude through the generous support of oncology nursing at Hoag. This includes the creation of a 2007 endowment for the Sandy Sewell Nursing Oncology Scholarship. "Many of our 33 committee members have had cancer themselves and experienced the extraordinary oncology nursing at Hoag," says Karen Linden, 2009 Circle 1000 chair. "This is a very complex area of nursing that requires specialized training and we are honored to support the continuing education and development of these dedicated caregivers."

Carolyn Hendrix, B.S.N., R.N., is the 2009 Sandy Sewell Oncology Nursing Scholarship Award recipient. She is currently director for Hoag Hospital's 8th Floor Oncology and the Hoag Cancer Outpatient Treatment Clinic. Carolyn has been with Hoag since 1994 and plans to pursue her Masters degree at California State University Long Beach this next year. She is honored and privileged to receive this outstanding award.

New Circle 1000 Logo Coming This Spring

After 22 years, the Circle 1000 Founders' Committee has elected to update its original logo. The new logo exemplifies the Circle of Support and connection that brings this outstanding group of supporters together every year. The new logo will be coming your way soon on this years Circle 1000 Celebration Brunch invitation and future print materials.
