Circle 1000 Raises More Than $1 Million

Circle 1000 celebrated its 24th Annual Founders' Brunch with guest speaker, Kelly Corrigan, best-selling author of The Middle Place. We are pleased to report that we raised more than $1 million dollars in 2011, which speaks volumes about our underwriters' commitment to support Circle 1000.

Guests at the Brunch enjoyed Ms. Corrigan's good humor, honesty and vulnerability as she shared her struggle as a young mother of two with stage-three breast cancer. To add to her challenge, her beloved father had his own grave cancer diagnosis just months after her own. She addressed the crowd as if she were sitting in her family room chatting with good friends.

She shared passages from The Middle Place, which poignantly describe that space you're in when you are both someone's parent and someone's child—an independent grown-up but still finding yourself wanting to run home to your parents when problems arise. Everyone experiences that middle place at different times. For Kelly it was while she battled cancer alongside her courageous father.

This often happens when someone is fighting a disease such as cancer or when taking care of someone battling it. Having a support system during this time, whether it is family or friends, is crucial. Circle 1000 is to the Hoag Family Cancer Institute as the Hoag Family Cancer Institute is to the person and family dealing with cancer; a great source of support, comfort, healing and care.

As we approach the 25th Annual Founders' Brunch Celebration in 2012, one can get a bit nostalgic. The history and impact of Circle 1000 to the Hoag Family Cancer Institute is significant and everlasting. Lives have been changed and lives have been saved. We have been fortunate to have inspirational and interesting keynote speakers over the years—each has touched our hearts, some making us laugh, some making us cry. Each brunch a special tribute to our underwriters and their tremendous impact on cancer care at Hoag.

The special planning for the 2012 brunch is well under way. It is a big year and we want to celebrate with you in a big way.

Thank you all for your dedication to Circle 1000. Your generous contributions and attendance enables the Hoag Family Cancer Institute to offer world class cancer care right here in Orange County. You keep Circle 1000 vital as a leading support for the Hoag Family Cancer Institute. Again, thank you for raising $1 million dollars in proceeds this year!

In the 24 years since Circle 1000's inception, contributions have totaled more than $13 million to the Hoag Family Cancer Institute. On behalf of the Circle 1000 Founders' Committee, Hoag Family Cancer Institute and Hoag we thank you again for your 2011 contributions.

2011 contributions were designated in the following areas:

- $150K - Oncology Nursing (Symposium)
- $100K - Sandy Sewell Oncology Nursing Scholarship endowment
- $750,000 - Tomosynthesis and Breast Ultrasound 3D units and education

Please plan to join us for our 25th Anniversary Celebration Brunch in 2012. Watch for details and the date to be announced. Join us as we write the 25th chapter of the Circle 1000 story together!

Fran Applegate – Vin Jorgensen Award Winner

Fran Applegate

A founding member of Circle 1000, Fran Applegate has been involved since the beginning when Sandy Sewell formed the group in 1987. Fran remembers being impressed with the idea and she continues to be impressed that Circle 1000 has held steadfast to its mission all these years later. Fran believes that donors become involved because of the cause and that the results speak for themselves. She is honored to win the award named after her good friend, the late Vin Jorgensen. She shares that she is deeply grateful to all of her friends who've been faithful Circle 1000 donors. A past winner of the Pete Siracusa Award, Fran and her husband, Dr. John Applegate, are long-time Hoag supporters. They are past Chairs of the Christmas Carol Ball and the Sweetheart Ball and were active volunteers in the Hoag Festival of Trees.

Circle of Support for Oncology Nurses

For nearly a quarter of a century Circle 1000 members have demonstrated their extraordinary commitment to supporting outstanding cancer care at Hoag. This year Circle 1000 funded continuing education for oncology nurses with a $250,000 gift to the Sandy Sewell Oncology Nursing Scholarship and the Annual Oncology Nursing Conference.

Circle 1000 has made a profound and long-lasting impact on oncology nursing at Hoag and beyond. The Sandy Sewell Oncology Nursing Scholarship endowment provides advanced education for oncology nurses who must undergo rigorous continuing education to stay current with advances in cancer care. The annual Oncology “Embracing Excellence in Oncology Nursing Practice” conference benefits radiation and oncology nurses from all over the western U.S. as well as pharmacists and nursing students interested in specializing in oncology.

“On behalf of Hoag, let me express our collective gratitude to you and all of the Circle 1000 members for putting your compassion into action,” shares Rick Martin, MSN, R.N., Hoag Senior Vice President & Chief Nursing Officer. “Oncology nurses are a very special group of people and we are extremely grateful that Circle 1000’s donations will greatly impact the lives of our nurses and in turn, our cancer patients. Your support of cancer care in our community is invaluable.”

25th Anniversary Celebration Plans Underway!

We are busy planning the 25th Anniversary Founders’ Celebration Brunch scheduled for spring 2012. We know that you will want to join us for this very special commemoration of a quarter century of generosity and commitment. We will announce the details soon.

Karen Douvillier, R.N., O.C.N. – 2011 Sandy Sewell Nursing Oncology Scholarship Recipient

Karen Douvillier, R.N., O.C.N.

Many members of Circle 1000 are cancer survivors and have experienced the extraordinary nursing care at Hoag first hand. The endowment for the Sandy Sewell Nursing Oncology Scholarship, created in 2007, supports these dedicated caregivers in continuing their education.

This year's 2011 Sandy Sewell Oncology Nursing Scholarship Award recipient is Karen Douvillier, R.N., OCN. A registered nurse for over 30 years, Karen worked for 12 years as trauma nurse before moving into oncology when her father was diagnosed with lung cancer in 1997. Karen, part of the Hoag family for three years, works in the Outpatient Treatment Center of the Patty & George Hoag Cancer Center.

Having cared for first her father, and then her mother, through their battles with cancer, Karen developed a passion for oncology nursing and a deep interest in advancing her education. In May 2012, Karen will complete her Bachelor's Degree in Nursing from Cal State University, Fullerton and she plans to go on to attend the Master's program at Cal State University, Long Beach. Her goal is to become an Oncology Nurse Practitioner.

"I am so grateful that Circle 1000 and Hoag have given me this amazing opportunity," says Karen. "Without the generous support provided by the scholarship, I would not have been able to move forward with my passion and attain my goal. I plan to pay it forward and help support the new nurses coming in."

Circle 1000 supports digital breast tomosynthesis

Gary Levine, M.D.

Circle 1000 is excited to announce that, thanks to your generosity, it is directing much of the funds raised in 2011 to a new and progressive technology in the fight against breast cancer. Hoag Breast Care Center is now the first and only breast center in California to provide state-of-the-art Digital Breast Tomosynthesis as part of its comprehensive breast imaging services.

"We are so grateful that Circle 1000 was able to fund the future of breast cancer screening in our community," states Gary Levine, M.D., director of imaging, Hoag Breast Care Center and a national expert in breast tomosynthesis. "Digital breast tomosynthesis provides us a greater opportunity to detect early-stage breast cancers which may not have been visible using traditional mammography. This early detection translates to lives saved."

Hoag is a pioneer in digital breast tomosynthesis. In 2008, Hoag was selected as one of only 11 beta sites in the nation designated to participate in the two-year clinical trial, which ultimately resulted in FDA approval of the technology in February 2011. Hoag currently offers digital breast tomosynthesis at Hoag Breast Care Center located within Hoag Hospital Newport Beach. In the near future, Hoag will be extending this service to Irvine as well.

Approximately 40 percent of women screened at Hoag have radiographically dense breasts, particularly younger women ages 40-49. For these women, conventional digital mammography has significant limitations and digital breast tomosynthesis promises to be especially valuable in evaluating them. Dense breast tissue can obscure an underlying cancer, or conversely mimic a cancer when none exists.
